To-day's Game.

To-day promises to see the closest contest ever played between the two universities. As far as "dope" can show, George Washington has a shade the best of it, although, as is well known, that is not an un-failing guide.

The records of the two teams show that in the games with the three teams that both universities have played, George Washington has won with a larger score than has Georgetown, while the latter's aggregate score for the season is proportionately greater than the former's.

The scores are as follows:

G. W. U. 0; Lehigh	6
G. W. U. 27; Gallaudet	0
G. W. U. 0; Swarthmore	17
G. W. U. 8; Western Md.	5
G. W. U. 22; Randolph-Macon	0
G. W. U. 0; Baltimore Med.	0
G. W. U. 0; Virginia	0
57	28
Georgetown 22; Gallaudet	0
Georgetown 28; M. A. C.	0
Georgetown 16; Mt. St. Mary	0
Georgetown 6; Wash'n & Lee	5
Georgetown 4; N. Carolina	0
Georgetown 0; Virginia	12
76	17

George Washington will go into the game with all her men in excellent condition, with one or more substitutes for each position. At least nine who played in last year's game will be in the line-up. The team will be made from the following:

- l. e.—Lorando, Steenerson.
- l. t.—Morris, Brookes.
- l. g.—Gibson.
- c.—Boarman, Harralson.
- r. g.—Moore, Vierra.
- r. t.—Sommers, Berryman.
- r. e.—Gunning, Gable.
- q.—Steenerson, McDermott.
- l. h.—Beard, Wright, Ruiz.
- r. h.—Sutton, Field.
- f.—Licarioni, Babcock, J.

Mr. Suter will be one of the officials, the others will perhaps be Hurley, of Harvard, and Woodruff, of Pennsylvania.

The game will be called at 2.30.

Y. M. C. A. Dinner.

As a signal bomb of the success so far met by the Y. M. C. A. Club of George Washington and as a prelude of better things to follow, a dinner will be given by the members of this Association in the Banquet Hall of the Central Y. M. C. A., 1736 G Street, on December 6th at 6.45 p. m. Probably little is known of the Club in the University; many students perhaps have not been aware of its existence. But it does exist and it proposes to do and be something.

One of the chief objects of the gathering is to get the men of the University together, to give a chance for the display of real "college spirit." There will be no sermons and no long-winded speeches of any sort. The fact that Marshall Magruder will preside is in itself evidence that the gathering will be truly George Washington.

A feature of the occasion will be a short address by Fred B. Smith, the world-renowned speaker to men.

Other New York speakers prominent in the Y. M. C. A. student movement will also take part. Many members of the faculty and a number of students prominent in University affairs have stated their intention of being present. It will be an event which no student can afford to miss.

The committee on arrangements announces that tickets for the dinner will be fifty cents, and may be obtained from the Assistant Treasurer, or from students in the different departments. The hour has been set at 6.45, in order to accommodate the afternoon students who can go direct from their classes and the dinner will be concluded early so as not to interfere with laboratory work or evening engagements.

The Intercollegiate Swimming Association recently formed in the North is composed of Columbia, Yale, Harvard, Princeton, Pennsylvania and Brown.

Between the halves during the Minnesota-Carlisle football game the Sophomores chased a greased pig around the field. The man who caught the pig kept it.

Faculty.

Professor James Brown Scott has issued a prospectus announcing the forthcoming American Case-Book Series, which is to contain collections of cases on thirty of the principal topics now taught in American law schools. These collections of cases are to be prepared by teachers in the different law schools of the country, under the general editorial supervision of Professor Scott. The series will be published by the West Publishing Company, of St. Paul, Minnesota.

Professor Scott, who was last March appointed Solicitor of the Department of State, is also to be editor of the American Journal of International Law, the publication of the recently established American Society of International Law. The first number is expected to appear in January.

At the meeting of the Association of American Law Schools, held at St. Paul, Minnesota, in August, Dean William R. Vance was elected Secretary of the Association for the ensuing year.

Dr. Hermann Schoenfeld, head professor of German, has been devoting most of his time to writing literary works. Dr. Schoenfeld studied in the University of Berlin, Breslau, Leipzig, Paris and St. Petersburg; from which he won his Ph.D. and his LL.D. Dr. Schoenfeld was instructor of Modern Languages at Providence and New Bedford, Mass., and instructor of German at Johns Hopkins. In 1894, he received his appointment here as head professor of German and professor of Germanics and Continental History. In 1899 he was appointed Ottoman Consul General in Washington.

The literary career of Dr. Schoenfeld has made him one of the most efficient authors of the day. All of his books are very classical and explain without doubt the extent of his excellent education.

Professor Mitchell Carroll, who is one of the National Secretaries of the Archaeological Institute of America, is spending his Thanksgiving holidays in Wisconsin and Iowa, assisting in the organization of Societies of the Institute.

(Tune—My Old Kentucky Home.)

Weep no more, poor Georgetown,
Oh, weep no more to-day.
We will sing once more
Of how Georgetown didn't score,
Of how Georgetown didn't score,
didn't score.

(To the tune—"Dixie.")

Founded by the Father of his Country,

That is why we're called George
Washington! Hooray! Hooray!
Hurrah!

A tiny thought it started, then
It grew and grew till now it's
George
Washington! Hooray! Hooray!
Hurrah!

Chorus.

Then give a cheer for Washington.
Hooray! Hooray!
We'll raise a song to help along
The team of dear George Washington.
Hooray! Hooray! Hurrah! for Washington!

We'll do them once and we'll do
'em again,
We'll show what stuff we have at
George
Washington! Hooray! Hooray!
Hurrah!
We'll jump right in and fight like men,
We'll show what spirit we have at
George
Washington! Hooray! Hooray!
Hurrah!

Chorus.

At a joint meeting of the Faculty and Student Committee at Yale new campus rules were adopted. Students are now forbidden to throw snowballs in the College buildings or yards or to smoke upon the steps or in the entries of the public buildings. The playing of football or any form of scrimmage game is forbidden on the College campus, but the Senior baseball game—played with a tennis ball and bat—will be allowed during recreation hours.

Students.

The manager makes a special request that all students respect the gate keepers of the reserved section and not rush in as has been done. To do so will not only be taking something without paying for it, but will be depriving those who have paid for their seats beforehand of what is rightfully theirs. Most of these seats have been purchased by ladies, who will thus be forced to stand wherever they may find a place. This will turn the sympathy of outsiders from us and lose us their goodwill and support.

Fraternity News.

Dr. W. Hamilton Smith, Jr., Medical '06, a member of Delta Tau Delta, and Miss Katherine P. Martin were married on Saturday, November 24th, at the home of the bride, 1414 15th St., N. W. Dr. Smith was assistant manager of the football team in 1904, Class Editor for the Mall 1906, and Commodore of the Canoe Club. We extend to Dr. and Mrs. Smith our congratulations and best wishes.

The biennial convention of Phi Delta Theta convenes this week, as has been already announced in THE HATCHET. The business sessions are being held at the New Willard. The program includes a smoker at Rauscher's, a banquet, a theatre party, and a reception by the President of the United States on Saturday, December 1st.

Dental.

Mr. Bumpus is again attending lectures, having been confined to his home for a week on account of illness.

Messrs. Young, Cummings, Muddock and Higgins of the Junior Class are very busy these days in the Infirmary, and all are of the opinion that this part of the course is no "cinch."

Mr. Charles Hickman, of the Freshman Class, is confined to his home, having been sick for the past week with a severe cold.

Ever since Mr. Shoemaker, of the Senior Class, became a Benedict, the laboratory has no charms for him after 10.30 p. m.

Mr. B. with his left arm affectionately encircling the neck of Mr. P.: "Did you write that notice on the blackboard about me?"

Mr. P. in a bashful and shrinking attitude: "Not guilty."

Both gentlemen then shook hands, Mr. P. with a sigh of relief, and Mr. B. with a ferret-like look in his eyes.

Christmas will soon be here, and in view of the fact that we must lay by a snug little sum for that banquet at the end of the school year, we would suggest to the members of the Senior Class not to spend all their spare coin for Christmas presents. Inasmuch as Mr. Phillips is Chairman of the Executive Committee, we feel that it is his duty to remind the class about this from time to time.

The National College of Pharmacy.

Election of class officers in the Junior Year has been postponed until Thursday, December 6th. There will in all probability be a lively race for President and for Secretary.

So far this year there has been but one Freshman to get cold feet and leave school. Quite a difference from the usual twenty per cent.

Nearly the whole Junior Class attended the "Ham Tree" Thursday matinee and voiced their approval of the display of the G. W. U. flag in the second act. 'Twas rather rough on old Virginia.

The Seniors will hold their first smoker during the Xmas holidays. Long preparation and anticipation should make it a "howling success."

Columbian Debating Society.

The question for discussion Friday evening, November 23d for the Columbian Debating Society was: "Resolved, That the doctrine of the Dartmouth College case, i. e., the charter granted by a State to a corporation is a legal contract which can not be altered or impaired by State Legislation; is bad law, and should be abrogated."

The work of the debaters was very satisfactory as the doctrine of the case was familiar to all and the reasons for and against its repeal were very forcibly presented.

It was determined by the judges that the affirmative had best stated its case and for that reason was awarded the decision.

The speakers on the affirmative were Mr. W. A. Dane, Mr. W. A. Hutchins and Mr. F. D. Couden. The negative was presented by Mr. F. H. Twyeffort, Mr. C. W. Bell and Mr. E. H. Andrews. Mr. Dane was accorded first honors and Mr. Andrews second honors.

Alice B. McKelden, Ph. D. (A. B. G. W. U., 1899) will address the Association of Teachers of Mathematics in the Middle States and Maryland, December 1, on "The Problems that arise in the Teaching of Elementary Algebra."

Sociological Congress.

The program of the next meeting of the American Sociological Society, which will be held at Providence, R. I., during Christmas week, has just been issued and is already arousing considerable attention among sociologists throughout the country. It was arranged by Dr. C. W. A. Veditz, of the George Washington University, who is Secretary of the Society. The main topics for discussion are "Western Civilization and the Birth Rate," "Child Labor in the United States," "The Teaching of Sociology," "The Fine Arts as Factors of Social Development," "Social Darwinism," and "Points of Concurrence Among Sociologists." The principal participants in the program are Professors Sumner and Bailey, of Yale; Patten, of Pennsylvania; Giddings, of Columbia; Fetter and Willcox, of Cornell; Lester Ward, of Brown; Albion Small, of Chicago; Edward Allsworth Ross, of Wisconsin; Edward T. Devine and Homer Folks, of the Charity Organization Society in New York; Peabody, of Harvard; Cooley, of Michigan; David Collin Wells, of Dartmouth; C. A. Ellwood, of Missouri. Among the other speakers who have consented to take part in the meetings are Bishop Henry Potter, of New York; the actors, David Belasco and Richard Mansfield; Franklin Sargent, the President of the New York Academy of Dramatic Arts; Fred Hovey Allen, a noted lecturer on Art; and Franx Xavier Arens, leader of the Symphony concerts in New York.

Admitted to Practice.

Among those who successfully stood the examinations in October for licenses to practice medicine and pharmacy in the District were the following 1906 graduates of the University: In medicine, Hans C. Jorgenson, Dallas G. Sutton, Anthony J. Lanza, Roy C. Heflbower, Kosciusko Hamilton, John S. Clifford; in pharmacy, Daniel J. Mattingly and Miss Isadora Geoghegan.

The meeting of the New York Section of the Society of Chemical Industry was held at the Chemists' Club, 108 5th St., on Friday evening, November 23d. There was an informal discussion of "Denatured Alcohol," and an exhibition of the apparatus in operation. Professor Charles E. Munroe, head of the Department of Chemistry, Dr. H. W. Wiley, Professor of Agricultural Chemistry and Dr. C. A. Crampton, M. D., 1884, of this University, took part in the discussion.

Football News.

Vanderbilt University, Nashville, Tenn., has called wide-spread attention to her foot ball ability this season by her unbroken string of victories over southern teams and by her games with Michigan and the Carlisle Indians. While Michigan won by a score of 10 to 4, all the northern papers conceded that Vanderbilt had outplayed her opponent and that mere good luck kept the score from being reversed. By defeating the Indians last Thursday she proved the truth of these statements, for the Indians have defeated Pennsylvania, who defeated Michigan. Since Harvard won from the Indians by a score of 5 to 0, and Vanderbilt won 4 to 0, it would seem that the southern team might compare very favorably with the eastern team.

Yale's 6 to 0 victory over Harvard Saturday was the result of brilliant team work, unremitting offensive playing, and taking advantage of every weakness of her opponent. Not once did she let up, nor did the team ever seem to be at a loss what to do. Harvard's playing was at times as brilliant as Yale's, but her men were not as quick to take advantage of every opportunity. This leaves the championship of the East between Yale and Princeton, with the advantage seemingly in favor of neither.

In Chicago's victory over Nebraska Saturday, Captain Eckersall made five goals from the field, thus closing his foot ball career with a brilliant finish. He was borne from the field on the shoulders of the students.

Swarthmore, Coach Crowell's old team, easily won her annual game with Amherst by a score of 21 to 0. O'Brien's work was the most spectacular of the game.

The football team of the University of Vermont on Wednesday unanimously selected Fenwick H. Watkins as captain for next season.

Watkins is a graduate of the Burlington High School, where he made an excellent record. Later he attended Exeter. Last year he made the football and basketball teams, and was a sub-catcher on the baseball team.

This fall he played an unusually fast game at left half back. He is a negro.

The University of Pennsylvania athletic committee announced that all athletic relations with Harvard had been severed. It was brought out by the refusal of the Pennsylvania athletic officials to ratify the two intercollegiate basketball games which had been scheduled.

The Game.

This afternoon the most momentous game in the history of the University will be played on Georgetown field. Those deeply interested in the progress of the University have seen her teams grow from a weak beginning, scarcely able to defeat a High School eleven, each year becoming stronger and stronger, going to battle with our old rival year after year with the knowledge of sure defeat, yet confident that from defeat we would learn and gather strength till that day when both teams would contest on an equal footing. The light began to break last year, when after a hard-fought game the score was 12 to 6. Then THE HATCHET said that the final step that would put us beyond the line of our childhood in football was near at hand. Already that step has been taken; we proved ourselves in the Virginia game; to-day will see a confirmation of it.

A team stronger than any ever before sent upon Georgetown field, confident of victory, fresh from a successful stand against the conquerors of Georgetown—such a team will Captain Steenerson lead to-day.

Although we may prophesy and believe that we are prophesying truly, yet prophesies are vain and uncertain. But one thing is certain, whether we come back victorious or defeated, it will be with honor, having fought a good fight. We know the team that will represent us to-day, and we know that they will play the greatest game that a George Washington team has ever played.

We want the team to know that they are not fighting alone. Every one in our section fights with them, every alumnus and official of the University, both here and in distant towns and cities. Those at the game will be helping with their cheers and encouragement, those absent will be sending earnest wishes for the success of the team. Each member of the team, realizing this, will play not simply with the strength of an individual but with the multiplied might of those who are looking to the team to win.

Yet whatever the outcome we want and believe that the team will come from the field with the profound respect of everyone, as a team that played for all there was in it, with a display of nerve, grit, and determination unsurpassed, and the best, cleanest and most sportsmanlike in the country.

Enosinian Debating Society.

At the regular meeting of the Enosinian Society Friday night, the question of the admission of Japanese children to the San Francisco public schools was discussed.

The entire negative side being absent, the Chair appointed Messrs. Gates and Marye to the vacant places. These gentlemen having no preparation, endeavored to make up in volume of sound what they lacked in argument, and so far succeeded that while the decision of the judges was unanimously against them, exactly half of the members of the society voted to award them the debate. Miss Ridout and Miss Newton, the two speakers on the affirmative, handled their case with great skill.

Entertaining issues of the Bee and News were read by Mr. Schreiber and Mr. Van Vleck. Mr. Barry's extemporaneous speech on the Sophomore-Freshman game was loudly applauded. All records for membership and attendance have been broken this year, and the roll is still increasing.

After the Georgetown game the Society will attend the Belasco Theater in a body.

Karmata Travelogues.

"Italy" will be the subject of the second of the Karmata Travelogues, given at the Columbia Theater, Friday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock, November 30th.

There is no more delightful or interesting country through which to wander than Italy. Rome, ancient and modern. In Venice we will carry you on a gondola through the Grand Canal, passing St. Mark's Cathedral, the Doges' Palace, the Bridge of Sighs, and many of the beautiful palaces that line its banks. Genoa, Naples, Sorrento and Capri are all of universal interest. The pictures secured for this lecture will in every respect be as instructive as the preceding one on India, or those to follow, on Japan and Egypt, and not one of the course should be omitted.

The management has arranged a special half-rate ticket for students, which can be secured in the office of the University Hall.

(Air—Chorus of "Waltz Me Around Again, Willie.")

Oh, here's where we rush poor old Georgetown,

Around, around, around,

Our team is a fighter, it'll lick Georgetown's eleven,

And wipe them all over the ground!

The way the teams play clearly shows it's our day.

We feel just like shouting out loud, "Hip, hooray!"

Oh, here's where we rush poor old Georgetown,

Around, around, around.

II.

Oh, here's where the touchdowns for our team,

Abound, abound, abound.

Steenie's quarterback dashes and long forward passes

Are always sure gainers of ground.

The Georgetown line cracks with the whack of our backs,

We feel just like shouting out loud, "Hip, hooray!"

Oh, here's where the touchdowns for our team,

Abound, abound, abound.

The Senior Class at Yale has adopted the honor system for examinations and daily exercises and it will be put into effect as soon as the faculty concludes the necessary formalities.

Sophs. vs. Freshmen.

What is this? Do not be sarcastic gentle reader. This is a football game. Those weirdly-attired youths, tearing madly up and down the field, pausing at frequent intervals in the midst of their exertion to discuss some matter of seeming importance, are not members of St. Elizabeth's debating society. They are the chosen representatives of the Freshman and Sophomore Classes granted a half-holiday by a kindly disposed faculty to decide the momentous question of athletic supremacy.

Seriously, though, it was a great game, and, though the Sophomores won, they can never boast that they had a walk-over. The game was hard-fought, and both sides covered themselves with glory.

The Freshman score was in more than one sense a field goal, their doughty quarter-back not only carrying the ball to the Sophomore's thirty-five-yard-line, but also providing the toe which, from there, unerringly guided it over the goal posts.

Mr. Ruiz was responsible for the Sophomore's touchdown, and his little sprint around left end for 85 yards was enough to make the most hardened howl for joy.

Special mention is due to the efficient work of the timekeeper, and no account of the game would be complete without some tribute to the dog.

The following is the line up and summary:

Freshmen.	Positions.	Sophomores.
Biddle	left end	Waters
Gillespie	left tackle	Ruiz
Johnson	left guard	Curran
Miller	center	Call
Howland	right guard	Newhouser
Mindeleff	right tackle	Crowe
Covell	right end	Bacon
Field	quarter back	Daniels
Clark	right h. b.	Pipes
Wilhelm	full back	Wright

Touchdown—Ruiz. Goal from field—Field. Referee—Mr. Steenerson, of George Washington. Umpire—Mr. Vierra, of George Washington. Timekeeper—Mr. Bright, of George Washington. Head linesman—Mr. Ball, of George Washington. Assistant linesman—Mr. Fleming, for Sophomores; Mr. Bell, for Freshmen. Time of halves—20 minutes each.

Undaunted by the defeat of their team, two or three of the Freshman girls hurried back to College and hoisted their class flag where it could be seen by the Sophomores as they returned. There is nothing slow about the Class of 1910.

The Classical Club.

The second regular meeting of the Classical Club was held Tuesday evening, November 20th, at the residence of its President, Professor Carroll, 3440 34th Place, Cleveland Park. The meeting was in the nature of a reunion and nearly all of its one hundred or more members since its organization were present or were represented by letters of congratulation and good will. Professor Carroll has been collecting data and statistics regarding the careers of the members of the club who have graduated from the University and presented the results on this occasion. It was interesting to all those present to be informed so definitely about the records of their predecessors in the club. Committee reports on books and periodicals were made by Dr. Smith, Mr. Edler, Mr. Owen and others. As the principal paper of the evening, Professor Carroll gave a reading from his new book, "Greek Women of the Eastern Roman Empire."

About forty or fifty of the members of the club were present and in addition Dean and Mrs. Wilbur, Professor and Mrs. Day, Professor and Mrs. Schoenfeld and Miss Ellis of the University, besides a number of guests. After adjournment of the meeting those present enjoyed the hospitality of Mr. and Mrs. Carroll.

Graduate Studies.

Mr. Walter Cox Taber, who has entered the School of Graduate Studies, received his A. B. degree from the Leland Stanford, Jr. University. Mr. Taber has enrolled for his M. S. degree, taking for his major study chemistry and for his minor studies chemistry and mathematics 20.

Mr. Walter M. Gilbert, who received his B. S. degree at the College of New York City, has enrolled as a candidate for a M. S. degree. Mr. Gilbert takes Philosophy of Nature for his major study and chemistry 20 and English 27 for his minors.

Columbian College.

The following officers were elected by the Senior Class at its meeting Monday, November 19:

President . . . Clarence P. Wilson
Vice-President, Miss F. G. Bethune
Secretary . . Miss J. T. MacMillan

History of the University.

The following is taken from a most interesting article by Dr. Mitchell Carroll in an issue of "The American Spectator," an article which all who are unfamiliar with the history and origin of the University should read.

The George Washington University is an endeavor to develop in the capital of the Nation a university which may realize in time the aspiration of George Washington as expressed in his last will. The University is the outgrowth of the old Columbian College, founded in 1822, which, in common with Yale, Princeton, and Brown, owed its inception to the initiative of a Christian denomination. In 1872, Mr. W. W. Corcoran, the philanthropist, gave an endowment "to make the college an university." In 1873, by act of Congress, the name was changed to the Columbian University and in 1884 the present university building at the corner of Fifteenth and H Streets was occupied.

The new era in the history of the University dates from the election to the presidency, in June, 1902, of Charles W. Needham, LL. D., who had already won much esteem as Dean of the Schools of Law, and Jurisprudence and Diplomacy. Early in 1903 an ordinance was adopted by the Board of Trustees reorganizing the professional schools as departments of the University, and merging Columbian College, and Corcoran Scientific School and the School of Graduate Studies into one department of Arts and Sciences, readjusting the educational work in this department on the basis of university subjects, with a head professor in charge of each subject. About the same time Van Ness Park, fronting the President's Park, south of the White House, and the Washington Monument grounds, was purchased as the new site for the University.

There were already in existence two other incorporated bodies which had the same university ideal in view. The George Washington Memorial Association, a body of patriotic women, was incorporated in September, 1898, to memorialize Washington's idea and to provide a building for scientific research and graduate study. The objects of the Association as stated in its charter are "to advance and secure the establishment in the city of Washington of an university for the purpose and with the objects substantially as set forth in and by the last will of George Washington, the first President of the United States, and to increase the opportunities for higher education of the youth of the United States." Another movement started by the Washington Academy of Sciences to establish educational facilities for scientific research and graduate study, resulted in the incorporation of the Washington Memorial Institution. The establishment, in 1902, of the Carnegie Institution, provided for the first object in view held in common by the George Washington Memorial Association and the Washington Memorial Institution—that of scientific research. The second object remained to be adequately provided for, namely, an institution devoted to graduate studies.

In the fall of 1903 conferences were held by representatives of the Washington Memorial Institution and the University, looking to suitable provision for graduate work. At the same time negotiations were begun with the George Washington Memorial Association, having in view the fulfillment of its objects by the erection of the George Washington Memorial Building, for the University under this community of interests. These conferences came to a satisfactory conclusion.

In January, 1904, the charter was revised by act of Congress, making the University non-sectarian and giving the Board of Trustees power to change its name. Finally, on May 2d, the stipulation that the University change its name to The George Washington University, on condition that the Association erect the main building on the new site at a cost of $500,000, was accepted and on June 8th, a resolution changing the name from Columbian to The George Washington University was formally adopted by the Board of Trustees. The change went into effect September 1, 1904.

Six prominent architectural firms in Washington, New York, Philadelphia, and Boston, were, in 1904, selected to prepare a general ground plan for the improvement of the new site, and definite plans for the Memorial and other buildings. The jury to decide the competition consisted of Mr. Charles F. McKim, of the Park Commission, Chairman; Mr. Bernard R. Green, Superintendent of the Library of Congress, and Percy Ash. This jury accepted on May 13, 1905, the plans submitted by the firm of George B. Post & Son, of New York, who designed the library building of Columbia University.

Other plans for raising money for buildings and for endowments, in addition to that for the Memorial Association, are well under way. The trustees have raised a considerable portion of the fund of $100,- 000 to prevent any deficiency in current expenses during the next five years, and to enlarge the educational work of the University to meet the increasing demands. The Alumni have successfully begun the raising of the sum of $150,000 to be devoted to the erection of Alumni Hall, which is to be the social center of university life. Plans are now being formulated for the accumulation of a $2,000,000 Endowment Fund, to be devoted chiefly to the development of the graduate department of Arts and Sciences, in the payment of professors' salaries and the equipment of laboratories and seminaries. An aggregate of about $200,000 in gifts is already assured. The present assets of the University are estimated at $1,250,000.

The work of the University, covering a wide range of activities, may be summarized under three principal heads:

I. The colleges, devoted to undergraduate and technical work. There are, first, Columbian College, under the auspices of the Baptist denomination, as from its inception in 1822, offering courses in the liberal arts and pure sciences, leading to the degrees of B. A. and B. S.; second, The Washington College of Engineering, organized in the fall of 1905, with courses leading to the B. S. degree in civil, mechanical, and electrical engineering. The technical work of this college is done in the Van Ness House; third, the Division of Architecture, with courses leading to the degree of B. S. in architecture, and, fourth, the National College of Pharmacy, with courses leading to the degree of Ph. D.

II. The professional schools: These are, first, the Department of Medicine, with courses under the (a) faculty of medicine, leading to the degree of M. D., and under the (b) faculty of dentistry, leading to the degree of D. D. S. Beginning with 1906-'07, the courses in medicine and dentistry have been reorganized by the Board of Trustees so as to be under one faculty, but with two Deans as heretofore; second, the Department of Law and Jurisprudence, with courses leading to the degrees of LL. B., LL. M., M. P. L., and Jur. D. Beginning with 1909-'10, the completion of two years of college work will be required of candidates for a degree in the Departments of Law and Medicine; third, the Department of Politics and Diplomacy, with courses leading to the degrees of Master of Diplomacy, and Ph. D. During the past year the work of this department was entirely post-graduate.

III. Under the department of graduate studies, in the Department of Arts and Sciences, are courses leading to the degrees of M. A., M. S., C. E., E. E., M. E., and Ph. D.

In order to get the new field, in course of construction, at California, ready in time for last Saturday's game, 100 Freshmen worked with the laborer's for three days.

Considerable adverse comment has been caused by President Butler's annual report to the Trustees, in which he supports his action in abolishing football at Columbia. The students feel that Columbia can not afford to give up the game while similar institutions throughout the country continue to play it, and sentiment is being organized for the reinstatement of football at the University.

Charles Chadwick says the Indians deserve to be in the first rank for their showing against Harvard and Pennsylvania, playing about even with one and beating the other. One feature of their game is their sportsmanlike spirit, which was commented on by the Harvard players.

COMING ATTRACTIONS.

Dockstader's Minstrels.

Following the engagement of Mary Mannering at the New National Lew Dockstader will bring his big minstrel company of eighty-five people to Washington for an engagement of one week. A novelty creation called "The Editor" has taken the place of the jovial Lew's former featured specialties and a number of local editions of the act will make it all the more popular here.

Sousa's "Free Lance."

John Philip Sousa's new comic opera, "The Free Lance," interpreted by a cast of 100 people, will be at the Columbia Theater for one week, beginning Monday, December 3d. The score of "The Free Lance" includes twenty-three of Sousa's new and characteristic numbers which have never been heard in this city. The book and lyrics of the production were written by Harry B. Smith. The composer himself selected the chorus of sixty voices and a special orchestra.

"Taps."

The attraction at the Belasco Theater next week will be John E. Kellard in "Taps," a drama of German military life, adapted from Franz Adam Beyerlein's "Zapfenstreich." This play caused a commotion among military circles in Berlin, where it was first produced, and was interdicted by the kaiser. It was then produced in English by the Shuberts with Herbert Kelsey and Effie Shannon in the leading roles, and was later produced in London, England, under the title of "Lights Out."

Reilly & Woods' Show.

For the week of December 3d, Reilly & Woods' big company open their engagement at the New Lyceum. The musical comedies presented are entitled "A Night in Atlantic City" and "A Supper for Two."

"Bankers and Brokers."

The new musical comedy, "Bankers and Brokers," in which Yorke and Adams are starring this season, is booked at the Majestic week of December 3d. The company promised numbers forty-five and includes some well-known people. The production is entirely new.

"Four Corners of the Earth."

Klimt & Gazzolo will bring to the Academy tomorrow night their new scenic production, "The Four Corners of the Earth," written by Robert L. Williams.
